HCP Anywhere Enterprise Drive Connect Release Notes

Drive Connect version 4.15.1 (21679)

The following new features have be included:

- The Update preferences settings for macOS includes Check Automatically download and install updates. When checked new versions are automatically installed when the user quits HCP Anywhere Enterprise Drive Connect.
- When trying to sync files with illegal characters or too long names, a clear error message is issued stating that you cannot copy some of these items because their names are too long for the destination volume. You are given the choice of canceling the copy action or skipping the illegal files and continue copying the other files.

The following bugs have been fixed:

- Indexing issues on both Windows and macOS. As a result, the constant refresh of the folder structure, when changing a directory no longer happens.
- Exporting mp4 projects in Adobe Premier no longer results in a strange file extension.
- When the server is offline you cannot connect the volume with the default path.
